

SFCANA

Area Subcommittee

Chair Report

December 2016

We have a lot of things to discuss today, so I just want to thank SFCANA for trusting me to serve for this past year.

Service from making coffee to this most recent position has taught me volumes about myself and been one of the most major and consistent contributing factors to my clean life today. The more I serve, the more I grow.

We do not do this alone and the dedication shown by the members of this body throughout the past year has made for a productive and effective year.

Thank you all for your service to our fellowship.

Grateful to serve,

Andrew S.
